Practices:

Fraud, Qui Tam, Civil RICO, Complex Business Litigation, Class Actions, White Collar Defense & Government Investigations

Gopi K. Panchapakesan is a first-chair trial lawyer whose practice focuses on the trial and arbitration of high-stakes business disputes.

A graduate of Harvard Law School, legal publications including the Daily Journal and Benchmark Litigation have recognized him for his litigation and trial prowess. Most recently, Gopi won a $164 million verdict against LuLaRoe – a multi-level marketing apparel company – in a two-month trial involving claims of fraud, fraudulent transfer, and breach of contract arising out of a $1.8 billion business relationship. The verdict was honored in the Daily Journal's Top Verdicts List. In the last three years alone, Gopi has successfully tried five cases as lead or co-lead counsel on both the plaintiff and defense side.

Gopi is an expert in defending complex litigation, including class actions and cases brought under the civil RICO statute and False Claims Act. Gopi's broad-based civil practice extends to cases involving commercial fraud, false advertising, unfair competition, trade secret misappropriation, contractual disputes, and employment matters.

Gopi also maintains an active white collar defense practice. He recently co-tried a three-month federal money laundering case (winning acquittals on 50 of the 85 counts) and has successfully resolved environmental investigations brought by the California Attorney General and local air quality management districts.

As a result of his proven track record of trying cases and winning case-dispositive motions, companies, both publicly-traded and privately-held, and leading executives entrust Gopi to litigate their complex business disputes. His representative clients include: Carvana, Digital Realty Trust, Herbalife, Shopify, and Tyler Technologies.

Gopi has also successfully defended some of the most significant civil RICO litigation in California, cases that collectively alleged upwards of $1 billion in damages. He regularly defends multi-national corporations in sprawling consumer class actions involving claims of unfair competition and false advertising. Gopi also defends False Claims Act cases on behalf of government contractors and healthcare providers. Gopi has the expertise to efficiently litigate these matters and understand the pressure points that push a case to conclusion. Indeed, Gopi recently won summary judgment and secured a favorable settlement for his clients in bet-the-company cases following depositions in which he elicited case-dispositive testimonial admissions.

Gopi has served in numerous bar association leadership roles, including as the Co-President of the Southern California chapter of the South Asian Bar Association (SABA). He also served on the Executive Committee of SABA North America. In 2022, he received SABA North America's Rising Star Award. He has served as a fellow with SABA North America's Leadership Institute and the National Asian Pacific American Bar Association's Leadership Advancement Program. Gopi has also served on the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Metropolitan Debate League.
