

Ekwan Rhow and Paul Chan Named Among the 2019 Most Influential Minority Attorneys by Los Angeles Business Journal

Bird Marella principals Ekwan Rhow and Paul Chan have been named among the 2019 “Most Influential Minority Attorneys” by the Los Angeles Business Journal. This is the third consecutive year in which Mr. Rhow has been selected to the list and second consecutive year for Mr. Chan.

The Los Angeles Business Journal’s Most Influential Lawyers supplement recognizes 50 of the best minority attorneys in the L.A. region who have made an impact in the legal industry, maintained the highest professional and ethical standards, and greatly contributed to both the Los Angeles business and legal community.

Click here to view full list.