

Timothy B. Yoo Named to National Law Journal's 2020 Intellectual Property Trailblazers

Principal Timothy B. Yoo has been named to the National Law Journal's list of Intellectual Property Trailblazers. The annual supplement recognizes legal practitioners who have impacted the industry through their groundbreaking achievements and distinctive leadership.

Yoo's feature highlights his origins at the California Institute of Technology, his successful defense of Korea's largest entertainment and media conglomerate in a major copyright infringement matter, and his role as a legal advisor to influential figures.

Click here to read the full issue.