

Shoshana E. Bannett

Shoshana E. Bannett boasts a broad range of trial experience and has contributed to many of the firm's highest-profile trial victories, often involving securities, the False Claims Act, internal investigations, and white collar criminal defense. Most recently, she served on trial teams that successfully represented JM Eagle (the world's largest PVC pipe manufacturer) in a billion-dollar FCA suit, and residents suing a Famous real estate developer over his unstable and noncompliant hillside Bel Air mansion.