

Bird Marella Volunteers at Los Angeles Regional Food Bank

On Saturday, April 25, fifteen Bird Marella volunteers consisting of attorneys, staff, and their friends and family volunteered time and service to the Los Angeles Regional Food Bank's 7th Annual Food From The Bar Campaign.

An inaugural event for the firm, volunteers sorted, bagged, and boxed various food items which will later be distributed to at-risk school children, ensuring sufficient food to sustain them throughout the weekend, and in between school day meals.

In addition to volunteering, the firm also placed donation bins in the office, allowing staff and attorneys to donate additional goods.

The Los Angeles Regional Food Bank's mission is to mobilize resources to fight hunger in the community. The non-profit organization distributes over 1 million pounds of food a week to families, children, and the elderly in need.
