Paul Chan and Shoshana Bannett Analyze Escobar's Impact on FCA Claims

Bird Marella attorneys Paul Chan and Shoshana Bannett co-authored the article, "FCA Claims after Escobar." Featured in the Daily Journal, the article provides an in-depth analysis of the Supreme Court's seminal decision in Universal Health Services, Inc. v Escobar and its continuing effects on False Claims Act (FCA) litigation. Chan and Bannett note how the decision continues to reverberate within the lower courts, as they struggle to harmonize Escobar with prior laws, and identify the exact requirements to prove high stakes fraud in government cases.
