Stanford University, B.A., honors, Firestone Medal for Excellence in Undergraduate Research, 2007

OVERVIEW

Mr. Seilie's practice focuses on complex commercial litigation across a breadth of substantive areas including securities, education, the environment, banking, and finance; as well as counseling clients on efficiently and effectively resolving complex disputes.

In addition to his civil practice, Mr. Seilie has significant experience representing clients in criminal matters. He has represented a number of clients in white-collar criminal investigations and, in that context, has provided compliance-related advice, conducted factual investigations, and prepared presentations to the government. He also served as a Deputy City Attorney for the City of Los Angeles and tried multiple cases to verdict.

Mr. Seilie came to the firm after practicing for several years at Munger, Tolles & Olson LLP. Before entering private practice, Mr. Seilie completed a clerkship with the Honorable Jay S. Bybee of the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit. Mr. Seilie earned his J.D., cum laude, in 2010 from Harvard Law School, where he served as a Notes Editor on the Harvard Law Review and argued in the finals of the Ames Moot Court Competition. Mr. Seilie received his B.A. with honors from Stanford University, where his undergraduate thesis was awarded the Firestone Medal for Excellence in Undergraduate Research.
